Place Releases Tentative Plans For Spardi Gras

Arthur Van Horn Opens Program

The tentative program for San Jose State's tenth annual Spardi Gras was released yesterday by Chairman George Place, and shows a slight variation from last year's activities.

Noon time will find Arthur Van Horn conducting the opening ceremonies in the Quad with James Chestnutt and Richard Russell, originators of the carnival day, as possible guests.

NOON TO FOUR
When the opening ceremonies are over, the concessions will open and will remain so until about four in the afternoon, stated Place.

All organizations who figure on having concessions for Spardi Gras should come to Jack Hilton's office tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. Place stated the concessions will be given out on a first come first serve basis.

At three-thirty the contest judging will be held. Beard costume and other contestants will have their innings, and winners will be selected. At four o'clock the annual spring grid game will be held. The judging will be held in the south Quad, and the grid contest will be held on the San Carlos turf.

FIVE-CENT CHARGE
Instead of having a free feed as in the years past, there will be a charge of five cents per student. This feed will be held in the rear Quad. Chairman Place announced that the reason for the five-cent fee is to help cover the expenses of the post-Revelries dance, which are high this year.

Bailey and Melzer will present the Spartan Revelries in the Civic auditorium at 7:30, and at 10 o'clock on the tennis courts the dance will be held. Steve Hosa in charge. Admission will be student body cards, and 25 cents for outsiders. The hop will last until one o'clock.

Play Produced Tomorrow In Little Theater

"The Bag of Rocks", written and directed by Miss Margaret Douglas, San Jose State college Speech instructor, will be given tomorrow at 12:20 o'clock in Room 53.

A one-act comedy, the play concerns the experiences of the young boy "Peter" who constantly deserts his home to escape from work, running into two escaped convicts. "Peter" is played by Tommy Hazard, student of the local Herbert Hoover junior high school.

Other members of the cast are Roberta Long, Jane Walker, Etta Green Freeborn, Julio Francescutti, Howard Chamberlain, and Jack Knapp.

A.W.S. OPEN House Wednesday IN UNION

Associated Women Students will hold open house in the Student Union Wednesday night, April 26, from seven until ten o'clock.

Students, faculty and parents are invited to attend this annual affair, states Leona Solon, acting president of the A.W.S.

"The highlight of the evening will be a program presented by the faculty and students of the college," said Miss Solon.

Refreshments will be served.

CHAPEL HOUR TO OBSERVE PEACE WEEK

In observance of Peace Week today's chapel program in the Little Theater will be taken over by Reverend E. Kirby, pastor at the Centella Methodist church.

Reverend Kirby will speak on the topic, "If War Is to be Abolished". Soloist on today's program will be Charlotte Morley, with Dorothy Currell accompanying on the piano.

The program will be held from 12:30 to 1 o'clock.

Sunburn, Flu

Sunburn and a small epidemic of influenza have been the two reasons for students appearing at the Health office during the past week, Miss Margaret Twombly reported yesterday.

Anyone feeling under the weather should stay in bed or report to the Health office, Miss Twombly stated.

ICE CREAM SALE TODAY IN QUAD

Ice cream will be sold by YWCA members in the Quad today between 11 and 1:30 o'clock.

As usual the chocolate and strawberry whips will be on sale. Also offered will be a new banana fudge—a special bar with a stick, according to Donna Birken, in charge of the sale.

Water Colors By Post Hung In Art Wing

Water colors done by George Post, nationally known San Francisco artist, are on display this week in Room 1 of the Art building.

These water colors are all exterior scenes, and include landscapes, buildings, but the majority being marine scenes.

The paintings represent many different lands—some of the pictures being done in European countries, such as France, Spain and several of the Mediterranean countries.

MOANS, GROANS FROM

SPARTA'S WOMEN

Moans and groans are already issuing from the larynxes of many of the so-called fairer sex on our campus as to the condition of the faces of many campus tarzans and others who are competing in the annual Whiskerino.

SQUAWK

With two big dances in the offing, Ero Sophian and the Sophomore Hop, the "gentler" members of the student body are raising a squawk.

But squawk or no, there are more than 65 men who have entered the annual derby with one or more objects in mind—win the prize of an electric razor, boycott the razor companies, sleep ten minutes more in the morning, or just entering into the spirit of Spardi Gras.

SHAGGY SCRIBES

The organization contest, with four teams entered, finds the Spartan Daily jumping out into the front with Bill McLean and Frank Bonanno leading the pack. "Fuzzy chin" Sammon is making a valiant, but futile try.

Police club, Spartan Knights, and Tau Delta Phi are the other three organizations sprouting whiskers, while there are over 30 males entered in the individual contest.

TROUBLE IN MY PRAYER

TICKETS GO ON SALE TOMORROW FOR 2ND SPRING PRODUCTION

Tickets for San Jose Players' second spring quarter production, James Clancy's "Trouble In My Prayer" which will be produced Thursday and Friday of next week, go on sale tomorrow in the main Speech office, Room 49.

Tickets are priced at 25 cents to students, and 50 cents to faculty and the general public.

A tragedy, "Trouble In My Prayer" deals with the problem of the individual in a modern totalitarian society unable to accept a dictatorial form of government or find a middle course. The individual, "Arthur", played by Clarence Cassell, finally goes to his death.

The set, depicting an attic made over into a bedroom, was designed by Mr. Wendell Johnson, of the Drama department, and is near completion now on the stage of the Little Theater.

The cast, which Mr. Clancy called unusually good, will hold first dress rehearsals late Sunday afternoon in the Little Theater.

Orchesis Program Presented Tonight In Morris Dailey

NEWMAN HOP TO FEATURE 'OAK BUCKET'

A wishing well will be one of the many attractions which will make it worth the while of Staters to attend the Newman club semi-formal, "Deep Purple", this Saturday night.

WISHES ALLOWED

Punch will be drawn up from the well by means of an "Old Oak Bucket" specially provided for the occasion. Dancers will be allowed a wish with every glass of punch.

Newman Hall will be transformed into a garden bower, purple predominating among the flora. The veranda will dress up in fuschias, trellises and rustic garden furniture. Archcliff Campus Florists will design special corages, at low price, in lilac and fuschia shades.

BIDS $1.25

Curt Sykes' orchestra will play the theme, "Deep Purple", for the opening and closing dances. The music will be the soft, sweet variety of swing.

Bids, at $1.25, are available from any club member. Spring and romance are here. And so is the dance. Need more be said?

TICKETS ON SALE THIS NOON

With nearly a complete sell-out, Orchesis, honorary dance society, will present its annual spring program tonight at 8:30 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

15 NUMBERS

Of particular interest on the program composed of 15 numbers is a series of three dances entitled, "Dances of Affirmation", Miss Marjorie Lucas, advisor, announced yesterday. Staccato movement is emphasized in the numbers which feature a solo pattern by Lorraine Jacobsen, remembered last year for her solo, "Dreams".

Costumed in bright peasant dresses are seven girls who perform a folk dance based on well-known waltz melodies. Light, graceful, swinging movements are featured in this number, which closes the first half of the program.

"HAUNTED"

Striking a different note is "Haunted", a wierd, unusual solo by Marylou Hoffman. Showing well the ability of the dancer, the dance conveys its idea well, says Miss Lucas.

Remaining tickets sell for the performance at 15 and 25 cents, will be on sale in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium at noon today or may still be purchased from Mrs. Myrtle Calkins in the Women's gymnasium.

RADIO CLUB MEETS

A regular meeting of the Radio club will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Shack. It is important that all members be present, as several business matters are to be brought up at the beginning of the meeting, states Mr. Harry Engwicht, club advisor.

After the business part of the meeting, all hands will turn to and help with the redecorating of the Shack. Refreshments will close the meeting.

Work on the club's radio transmitter is continuing. Redesigned to take up less space and operate more efficiently, the transmitter may be finished within two weeks, and the club will then immediately go on the air.

Plans are under way to present a series of movies at future meetings of the club. The movies will show some of the recent developments in the field of radio.

Local Clothing Store Starts Hobby Contest

Leon Jacobs, local men's clothing store, has announced a hobby contest open to students of San Jose State college. This contest will start Thursday, April 18, and will run until the end of the spring quarter.

Hobby enthusiasts are asked to bring their hobbies or samples of them to Leon Jacobs where they will be displayed until the end of the contest.

First prize in this contest will be a $20 merchandise order, second prize, $10 merchandise order; and a third prize of $5 in merchandise.

Judges for the contest are Jack Hilton, George Place, and John Spurgeon. Their word will be final in the judging of the hobbies.

More On Neutrality...

We have heard some discussion on the nature and significance of proposed amendments to the Neutrality Act. We must first remember that any sane person loves peace and has a deadly fear of war, and that the differences of opinion are around the question of the best method for the restoration and preservation of peace in the world. Our problem is to work together, as individuals, as organizations, and as nations.

The legislation providing the best means for cooperation is the proposed Thomas Amendment to the Neutrality Act. This amendment provides that the United States shall ship no arms to governments guilty of violation of any peace pact to which the U. S. is a signatory, and that arms to any nation not included in this category shall be purchased on a strictly cash and carry basis. Let us see how this would work in the existing situation. This is just one example; make your own applications to other situations.

Japan, a co-signer with the U. S. to the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact and to the Nine-Power Treaty, has clearly violated both by her war of aggression in China. Experts agree that without the supply of war materials which is at present flowing from the U. S., Japan's war of aggression would be ended, possibly within three months, and certainly within a year. Thus the U. S., which we are still able to classify as a democratic, or at least as a non-Fascist nation, would automatically be placed on the side of the increasingly democratic government of China. This support would certainly not be that of armed force, as it is perfectly obvious that if Japan could not carry on a war against China without American war materials, she certainly could not carry on a war against the U. S. without them. Here we see conclusive proof that economic action does not lead unavoidably to military action.

The only way to bring peace to the world is to stop the wars going on today, and to so weaken the war-making nations that they can never become a threat to our own country or to any other country still at peace.

With these considerations in mind, every person sincerely eager to save himself and his country from the devastation of war should support the Thomas Amendment.

—Hilda Hanchett.

Alexander Graham Bell. A Twentieth Century-Fox production starring Don Ameche and Loretta Young.

PLOT... Briefly, this is the story of the early struggles and of the great love in the life of one of America's greatest contributors to world science.

COMMENT... Don Ameche wraps up this Treasure Island-premiered film and walks away with it. As the passionately sincere young inventor and tenderly loving husband, he delivers a performance that for sheer acting artistry, should win for him a place among possible Academy Award winners.

Loretta Young, in the role of Mabel, deaf sweetheart and later wife of Bell, comes through with depth and emotion in her histrionic ability, hitherto undisputed. Henry Fonda, as Watson, Bell's assistant, reveals a distinct flair for humor, aided considerably by sparkling dialogue.

SUMMARY... A must-see for every movie-goer's list. "Everybody's Baby", latest of the Jones Family flickers, suffers terribly in comparison with a film like "Alexander Graham Bell". If you're lucky... or smart... you'll time yourself so that you miss this.

College dancers are sure hard to please! I've finally come to that conclusion!

CREPE-HANGER

Then along comes the kill-joy! Just when you are working up a steam in telling your friends how good the music was, and everyone seems to agree, along comes the bright boy to remark that the orchestra was lousy.

Then there's the class who is disappointed if every two out of three numbers are not fast and jitter-buggy. At this particular dance the other night, I had a plenty tough time keeping my big feet off my gal's sweeping formal gown in a waltz. All I needed was "Hold-tight" to hit the floor! The orchestra was booked as a "sweet" outfit, and kept things lively by chipping in with a couple of fast ones now and then. Besides, there is nothing that looks more silly than to see a couple in rather formal attire go into a rat-race version of a scene at the skating rink.

Yearlings Win Fifth Horsehide Battle In Row, 10-3

San Jose State's freshman baseball nine defeated Mountain View high school, 10 to 3, yesterday afternoon on Spartan Field. The yearlings have hit their stride late in the season, but have begun to win ball games in regular style during the last five games. Again, Tex Leverton, the dependable frosh chucker, brought the yearlings out of the fray allowing seven scattered hits, while the yearlings reached the Mountain View pitcher for eight hits.

Up and Down The Sports Rialto

WITH DAN O'NEILL

Battling an innocent white ball across an equally innocent net doesn't exactly come under the category of thrilling sport, but San Jose State tennis players have been mighty close to proving the advantage that science is sometimes a lot more interesting than hand combat.

HEADLINES

Erwin Blesh's racquet wielders aren't getting front page spreads these days and for that matter Budge and Fred Perry, a couple of fair country players, aren't either, but if you analyze the amazing record compiled by the Spartan netsters you suddenly come to the realization that they deserve every bit of recognition they are getting.

Since joining the Northern California Intercollegiate Tennis Conference in 1937 the men of Coach Blesh have yet to lose a league match. So what? you say. Well, you name a team that boasts a similar record in college competition? During the three seasons the Spartan netsters have won 20 consecutive matches against outside competition. This year his men still are continuing their winning ways and there is a little likelihood that they will suffer a loss.

PLAY FOR FUN

Each, by careful planning, has selected a well-balanced squad of players. Before matches he doesn't give them the old fight talk. He wants his men to play for the fun of it and not for the sake of winning. If they can—and they do both. The result is a championship team. The next time the conversation drifts around to college tennis, put in a plug for Erwin Blesh's squad because the boys are just as good as the next—and remember, they have a record to prove it.

BOSS BADGER FIGHTS

Three days ago my mother told me I was 100 when I threatened to quit my temper. I tried this at the other evening when Portal's boxers tangled with me. After the judges awarded Art Walsh the decision over George Konoshima I began ranting because I was surely losing my equilibrium. However, the count reached only 17 and I was up in despair. My temper was lost and mother's teachings were for naught.

WUZ ROBBED

If any man deserved a win, it was Konoshima. At least that was my opinion and the opinion of nearly everyone in the house. The fact he should have gotten was a draw. That would have been enough. The fights were crowd-pleasers and started to finish. Dee Portal was a mighty busy man throughout the evening. Before the bouts

RACQUETEERS CLASH WITH SAN FRANCISCO STATE NETMEN TODAY

Tennis forces of Erwin Blesh meet the challenge of San Francisco State college this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the San Jose Club courts.

Today's match will be a conference affair with the Bleshmen overwhelming favorites to repeat an earlier victory gained over the bay city squad.

ENTRANTS

In the singles, John Krysiak, George Kifer, Victor Ehle, Ed Harper, George Egling, and Ken Boscacci will compete. The doubles tilts will find the following pairings for San Jose: Harper-Egling, Krysiak-Ehle, and Boscacci-Queen.

Postponed from yesterday, the Spartan-St. Mary's tennis match will be held at Moraga tomorrow afternoon. Following this match the Bleshmen will invade Santa Clara on Saturday to meet the Broncos for the first time this season. Both the Gael and Bronco matches should be close as St. Mary's is reputed to be almost unbeatable on their home courts.

MEET DONS

Next Tuesday University of San Francisco will face the Spartan netsters. The Dons, hopelessly out of the race for league leadership, have been beaten already this year by San Jose, so there isn't much chance for them to topple the local forces.

NOTICE

SECOND WEEK OF TOURNEY BEGINS

At the end of the first half of the current week of play in the softball tournament, this is the second week of play, 1000 club is leading the Stooges 3-0, Dark-horses are leading the Leftovers 4-1, and the Internationals are ahead of the Jugglers 8-5.

Gene Rocchi of football fame, Frank Bonanno, Ben Johnson, and Fred Merrick, scribes for the Spartan Daily, are on the roster of the Dark Horses. The 1000 club, defending champions, have a good player in Riordon who is the captain and a star on the State varsity baseball team. Captain Frank Carroll has also put in some noble work for his team. For the Jugglers, Fancher and Freitas look good. The D.T.O.'s have Carlton Perego to bolster their hopes.

Dummy Machine Stars In Role Of Strong Defensive Six-Man Line

Putting to work his latest practice innovation, "Pop" Warner yesterday drilled four squads of spring gridders on the six-man dummy scrimmage device.

Discarding the obsolete seven-man line machine as impractical against the diversification of defensive formations, "Pop" believes that his new four-man inanimate line, with a little bait thrown in at the end positions, will more practically emulate the actual game situations.

Loggers Bring Small Squad Here Saturday

Humboldt State college, which comes here next Saturday for a three way meet with California Poly and our Spartans, will bring a squad of between 15-20 men here, early reports from Eureka indicate.

Coach Herb Hart has a small but able Lumberjack squad that is called the "best track team in the history of the college." Many of the names on the roster are familiar to fans who saw the Lumberjacks and Spartans meet here in football and basketball.

The Spartans appeared to be in fair shape in last night's workouts, but Hartranft may withhold Tickle Vasconcellos, broad jumper and high jump star, to give the little Hawaiian grasshopper's injured leg sufficient time to heal before the Spartans wade into its tougher meets.

Jim Hallstone, who pulled up lame in the 220 against Fresno, will be definitely out in favor of his leg injury. This leaves a gap in San Jose's sprint strength, and at the present time Coach Hartranft is puzzled over the situation.

Morning Affair Will Be Prelude To Spardi Gras

BUFFET SERVICE
6:30 TO 8:00

As an innovation in San Jose State college social affairs, a May Day Breakfast Dance will be held Monday, May 1, in the Women's gym, Steve Hosa, Social Affairs chairman, announced yesterday.

The dance will be held from 6:30 to 8 o'clock in the morning, during which time a buffet style breakfast will be served. Music will be by a prominent local band as yet unnamed.

The dance comes on Monday of Spardi Gras week as a fore-runner to the annual all-college celebration. "The breakfast dance is the result of requests from several students that such an affair be held," said Hosa, "so the Social Affairs committee expects, and would like to see a good number of students in attendance.

The gym will be decorated with flowers following the May Day motif.

ANNUAL BAND CONCERT IN MORRIS DAILEY

Members of the San Jose State college band will present their annual band concert Tuesday evening, April 25, in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Directed by Mr. Thomas Eagan, music faculty member, the band will broadcast part of their program to the general public over the Don Lee Broadcasting System through KQW. The program will start at 8:00 p.m. with the broadcast running from 9:30 to 10:30. This will make KQW's second all-Pacific Coast broadcast, the first beginning with the band concert last year.

The program for the broadcast portion of the concert will include "Claire de Lune" by Debussy; "Morceaux Symphonique" by Cesar Franck; "The Camp of Wallstein" by D'Indy; and "Musical Humoresque" by Strauss.

Names of those tending guide booths for campus visitors were released yesterday by Leona Solon, vice-president of Black Masque.

Miss Solon, working with Miss Helen Dimmick, Dean of Women, is securing guides for Exposition-goers who might visit the college campus.

Following are the list of names and times the people are to be at the booth situated in the quad:

Four Colored Pages Planned For La Torre

Bigger and better and more colorful than ever is the watchword of the 1939 La Torre, which boasts four pages in color and eight more pages than last year's annual, declared Dorothy Curry.

Yearbook Editor Curry is featuring more informal shots of faculty and students than have previous yearbooks. Even the staid and heretofore coldly formal faculty section will be pepped up with some exclusive candid shots of well-known professors in action in the classroom and on the campus, she declared.

One of the highlights of the book, according to Photography Editor Bill Laffoon, is the football life section which features the activities of the average student during the football season. All the life, color and frivolity of the fall quarter are portrayed in a composite type of layout.

WORMS OUTWORK BEETLES

For Science's Sake

One thousand legs! And they all work!

Dr. Carl Duncan of the Science department is now singing the praises of a colony of 1000-legged worms which came through an experiment with flying colors.

WORMS, BUGS, BEETLES

To see how fast the insects could work, Dr. Duncan placed them, along with sow bugs and beetles, in a glass-enclosed box filled with leaves and twigs. The purpose of the experiment was to discover just how long it would take the insects to manufacture, through partial digestion in their bodies, humus, a necessary ingredient for rich soil.

BUGS, BEETLES BEATEN

Thereupon ensued fierce competition between the worms and their opponents, each trying to get the most work done. The sow bugs and beetles did their best, but it is Dr. Duncan's decision that the millipedes have definitely forged ahead and are in line for the blue ribbon.

At present accounting, says Dr. Duncan, 3 months since the experiment began, 108 of the total 324 cubic inches of material has been converted into humus, which, he says, is quite a record even for a thousand legs.

CLASS MAKES Metal Spinning Tools WORTH $500

When industrial arts classes need tools they call on Mr. Marion Weatherford, instructor, and his crew of NYA shop students.

Over $500 worth of metal spinning tool have been made under Weatherford's direction. The standard market price for a set of these tools is $80, and Weatherford and his crew forged five sets and some special lathe attachments.

In addition to the metal spinning tools, Weatherford made all the equipment used in the new course in lapidary work taught by M. E. Hughes.

BRAILLE BIBLE IN LIBRARY

A Bible in braille as well as several new reference books have been added to library shelves, announced Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian, yesterday.

Among others received were an Index to New York Times—A Book of Record for 1937; English Who's Who for 1938; Book Review Digest for 1938; Standard Atlas of the World, by Rand McNally, published in 1939. Along with these are two books of maps by J. F. Horrobin—"An Atlas of Current Affairs", and "An Atlas of European Affairs".

REVELRIES FEATURES FOLIES BERGERE IDEA TITLED 'MEET MR. MARS'

Dr. Paul Moses, Prominent Speech Authority, Talks

Dr. Paul J. Moses, lecturer on speech disorders at the University of California Medical school, will speak on "The School Teacher's Voice Problem," tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in Room 155, Dr. Margaret Letzter announced yesterday.

While the lecture is intended primarily for members of the Speech Correction classes, Dr. Letzter said anyone interested will be welcome.

"Dr. Moses not only knows the pathological and medical angles of speech and voice problems, but understands the point of view of the teacher of voice and speech—especially the remedial work," Dr. Letzter said.

Besides being an instructor at the California Medical school, he is in charge of the clinic at the Stanford University Medical school for speech and voice disease.

Dr. Moses' address is sponsored by the Speech department.

Eta Epsilon To Attend Confab

Six members of Eta Epsilon, campus Home Economics club, will represent the local chapter at a state-wide convention of the California Home Economics Association at Fowler, California, this Saturday.

Those from San Jose State who will attend are Prudence Rogers, president; Jeraldine Monot, Betty Murdock, Lorraine Anthony, Doris McCullah, and Mary Maren Johnson.

The purpose of the convention is to discuss plans to unite more closely the various college and high school home economics societies throughout the state, Miss Gladys Nevenzel, faculty sponsor of the club, pointed out.

At a meeting of the club Monday evening, Miss Pauling Lynch, clothing instructor, gave a knitting lesson to members.

Class Schedules Lecture Series

Members of the kindergarten curriculum class at San Jose State college are hearing a series of lectures on the needs of the five-year-old child.

The first of the series was given recently when Miss Helen Mignon of the Home Economics department spoke on "Nutrition", and Miss Grace Plum of the Health department spoke on "Health".

Later this quarter Dr. Bertha Mason will discuss "Sex Problems" and Mrs. Winifred Reynolds will speak on how the needs of the kindergarten child who has attended the nursery school are modified from those of the child who has not attended the school. The instructor of the course is Miss Mabel Crumby.

PLOT LACKING IN MUSICAL SHOW

"Meet Mrs. Mars." This is the title of the 1939 Revelries, it was revealed yesterday by Jim Bailey, director of the annual Spardi Gras musical show.

NO PLOT Bailey said there will be no plot, as originally planned. Instead, the Revelries will be patterned after the Follies Bergere idea, that of a variety show, only on a larger scale. Those in charge hint at a surprise element to be used to introduce the different acts.

Bill DeDiego, "dead pan" comedian and one of the hits on last year's show, will be one of the featured funnymen in the new production. According to plans, DeDiego and Bailey will repeat the comic Spanish dance which was such a success in the Revelries of 1936.

DRUMBOLERO Len Rankin, pianist extraordinary and popular campus wit, will also be one of the featured comedians.

Two of the outstanding numbers on the show will be a South American dance by chorus. The music for this sequence, a tantalizing rhumba entitled "Drumbolero", was written by Jack Green, whose compositions and piano playing were so outstanding on last year's show.

In addition, Green's song, "The Magic Of You In My Arms", will be used in the waltz number of the Revelries. From 30 to 50 people will be in the show, declared Bailey.

RAY MINNERS STARTS NEW PRINT PLANT

Ray Minners, former Spartan Daily editor and now co-owner and editor of the Union Democrat of Sonora, recently opened a new printing plant, terminating a five-month program of re-building and modernization.

The Union Democrat, which was established nearly eighty-five years ago, is said to be the leading newspaper of the Mother Lode country. This new plant, which houses the equipment of the paper, is considered one of Sonora's most modern buildings.

Minners took over the position of editor of the paper when he left school in summer of 1938. He had attended San Jose State for two years, ultimately becoming editor of the Spartan Daily during the 1938 spring quarter.
